WELCOME

FROM THE COMMITTEE

We would like to take this opportunity to say a huge thank you to everyone who has supported us and helped us make tonight a truly fantastic and inspirational evening in honour of Lee.

In March 2011, Simon, Vicky and Becky had a vision of organising a Grand Charity Ball in Lee's memory and raising awareness of Epilepsy. Having had previous experience of organising smaller events, they quickly recruited 4 additional committee members with a vast experience of organising major Charity Balls. Once the brainstorming had started, it was clear that our theme for the evening had to encompass Lee's passion for sport, his love for Leeds United and his trademark smile. It goes without saying that Lee's chosen venue would have been Elland Road, and Smile with the Stars was born.

The support from individuals and companies across the UK snowballed beyond our wildest dreams. All 600 tickets were sold 4 months in advance, and our dream was rapidly turning into reality. It was very clear that we were planning one of the biggest Epilepsy

Ball's to be held in this country for a very long time – a fantastic tribute to Lee, filling us all with immense pride. To quote Charles Darwin 'A man who dares to waste one hour of time has not discovered the value of life'. This could have been written with Lee in mind – he may not have achieved the quantity of life he deserved, but the quality of what he achieved is beyond doubt. We hope you all enjoy the many memories we'll recall throughout the evening, and join us in celebrating the life of a very special person.

Words cannot express our sincere gratitude to each of you for supporting tonight's event. Lee will be watching down on us all tonight, so have fun, raise a glass to him, and let's make Lee's lasting memory live on!

Epilepsy Research UK Fundraising Dinner

I am delighted to send my best wishes for this evening's fundraising dinner for Epilepsy Research UK – a charity close to my own heart.

Samantha and I know from our own experience of having a son suffer with a very severe form of epilepsy, the huge amount of help and support charities like Epilepsy Research UK offer people with the condition, and also their families and friends.

I find it inspiring that so soon after their own son's tragic death, Simon and Vicky are working so hard to raise awareness – and raise money – for charities supporting people with epilepsy and promoting research into the causes, treatments and prevention of the condition.

I wish everyone attending this evening's event my very best wishes. I am sure it will be a huge success and provide a big boost for a wonderful charity.

LEE JOHNSON

If ever the expression “Live for today” should be heeded, then just remember Lee’s attitude to life.

Lee was born on the 14th January 1986, a day that changed Simon and Vicky’s life forever. Lee’s love and enthusiasm for life was never greater than when he was playing sport, especially football and cricket. His love affair with Leeds United started on 11th April 1992, when he went to his first game at Elland Road at the ripe old age of 6. Lee was hooked and another loyal Leeds fan was born. In an amazing twist of fate, the star player on the front of the matchday programme that day was Gary Speed, who Lee met after the game. They’re now re-united in a better place.

1992 also marked the formation of another of Lee’s great loves – Collingham Junior Football Club. Lee threw himself into the club with enormous enthusiasm, and it was clear that from an early age he had the ability to go onto greater things. In 1994, Lee achieved something beyond his widest dreams when he was spotted by a Leeds United scout and offered a trial, aged 8. Following his trial, he was offered a place at the Centre of Excellence, where he was retained for 4 years.

As well as football, he played cricket for Scarcroft CC in the juniors and then the senior teams. His last game in 2010 saw him hit the winning runs to guarantee promotion whilst batting with Simon – you couldn’t have written the script.

Lee’s life changed forever when, at the age of 9, he was diagnosed with epilepsy – a bolt out of the blue to everybody. Given the global lack of knowledge about epilepsy, we never knew if Lee would grow out of it, if it could be controlled, or if it could get worse. Immediately, he underwent full medical checks to try and diagnose the type of epilepsy he had, and how it could be controlled. He clung onto the hope that he would grow out of it, but sadly that wasn’t to be. Privately, he shed many tears worrying about how epilepsy could affect him, but he never wanted to burden his friends with something that he saw as his problem. He showed unbelievable strength in dealing with his condition, which never prevented him from enjoying worldwide holidays with his family and friends, including scuba diving in the Great Barrier Reef.

Lee was the model student at Lady Hastings School in Collingham, St John Fishers in Harrogate and Northumbria University. His employers, from the Windmill Inn, to the Scotts Arms, to Kitbag all talk about Lee with great affection – a loyal, honest, hard working guy who was a joy to have at work – with a constant smile. It was this determination on 11th December 2010 that helped him achieve his dream job as a soccer coach in America.

Tragically he never fulfilled that dream.

There simply isn’t enough room in this programme to talk about all the memories Lee has left us. Even in his wildest dreams, Lee would never have thought that his premature death would affect so many people

...a true testament to a much loved son, brother and friend.

EPILEPSY BEREAVED

JANE HANNA OBE

Thank you

We are very grateful to the Johnson family and friends for raising vital funds in memory of Lee. This will help us fund research into the prevention of SUDEP and other epilepsy deaths and to raise awareness of the fact that 3 people die suddenly every day in the UK from epilepsy. Epilepsy Bereaved is the only organisation in the UK dedicated to preventing sudden unexpected death in epilepsy (SUDEP) and other seizure-related deaths and supporting and involving the bereaved.

RECENT GROUND-BREAKING RESEARCH

Recently Epilepsy Bereaved has funded five research projects aimed at prevention of mortality. Research with GP practices across the UK this year found that information collected routinely by GPs could be used to step-up care of people at risk and a bid for research funding is under consideration to develop support tools for GPs.

Research projects at King's College, London, funded in 2011, looked at mortality outcomes after surgery and other specific interventions. In 2012 the charity is funding research aimed at developing a SUDEP safety check list analysing data from 50 deaths in Cornwall. Epilepsy Bereaved is also a partner in a SUDEP genetics project led by the Epilepsy Society, which will examine the brain tissue of SUDEP victims aimed at identifying genes that may explain some SUDEP deaths.

NEXT STEPS

There is, however, much to do. Since SUDEP awareness has increased, the overall number of epilepsy deaths reported has also increased. This may well reflect better practice in the reporting of deaths, but urgently highlights our need to systematically understand the events and risk factors implicated in SUDEP deaths. Our main research priority is the establishment of a UK SUDEP registry to properly understand the deaths and drive change.

EPILEPSY RESEARCH

Epilepsy Research UK is the only national charity exclusively dedicated to funding independent research into the causes prevention and treatment of epilepsy.

To celebrate our 20th anniversary, we are aiming to award £1,000,000 in research grants for the first time. These grants will go to projects around the UK that will address key aspects of epilepsy research and will have a real impact on the lives of people with epilepsy.

Great progress has been made in understanding the causes of epilepsy in recent years, and Epilepsy Research UK is proud to be supporting some of the key researchers who are pushing forward our knowledge of this condition. Each project we fund is rigorously assessed by a panel of experts to ensure that it has the potential to advance our understanding.

- There is no known cure for epilepsy
- Over 30% of people with epilepsy have seizures that do not respond to drug treatment
- In over 60% of cases there is no known cause
- Over 500,000 people in the UK have epilepsy
- Every year 1,000 people die as a result of epilepsy

Our vision is of a future where every type of epilepsy can be safely controlled and people can live seizure-free – research is the key to achieving this.

Lee's family have chosen to support the work of Epilepsy Research UK through the Lee Johnson Memorial Fund, which each year will help fund one of the charity's research grant awards. In 2011 Lee's family and friends raised £25,768 for Epilepsy Research UK, an extraordinary tribute to Lee's memory.

Epilepsy Research UK would like to thank Simon, Vicky and Becky Johnson and all Lee's family and friends for their generosity and commitment to supporting research through the Lee Johnson Memorial Fund.

If you would like further information on the work of Epilepsy Research UK please contact us on 020 8995 4781 or info@eruk.org.uk.

2011 FUNDRAISING

At Lee's funeral on Dec 21st, we made a commitment to raise the awareness of Epilepsy and Sudep, not only to remove the stigma surrounding the condition but also to raise much needed funds for research.

These are the astounding results achieved by our family and friends throughout 2011, for which we are eternally grateful:

Mottram Hall. Simon blamed the weather for his performance, but £540 was still raised!

A further £7,000 has been donated throughout the year, taking our total to over £44,000 – AMAZING!!!

GUEST SPEAKER

SALLY KETTLE

I decided to row the Atlantic because I wanted a better future. I was a secretary in Brighton at the time, but I wanted to be more than just a touch typist with a theatre degree!

I never knew that heading out to sea in a 23ft wooden rowing boat would ultimately save my relationship with my mother, and I certainly didn't know how much it would change me. As I look to the future now, I realise that I can't do everything and I certainly can't save the world, but I can do something. In changing and challenging oneself I hope to influence and inspire others to do the same.

In 2006 I became the 1st woman to have rowed across the Atlantic East- West twice. An incredible feat especially as I'd never rowed or been at sea before. I first took to the oars in 2003. After 6 days at sea, my rowing partner had an epileptic seizure and we had to be rescued. Following this initial set back an unlikely rowing partner, my mother, Sarah Kettle, joined me. 105 days later we made it into the Record Books as the world's first mother and daughter to row an ocean.

In 2005 I founded Rowgirls - an all female rowing team striving to break the record for the fastest Atlantic crossing. Unfortunately the team of four was struck by disaster when a crewmate left the boat mid-Atlantic. Subsequently the boat lost its rudder in the worst recorded conditions in 200 yrs and a shark attacked the boat - no lives were lost! Not willing to give up, my crew and I completed the challenge - arriving in Antigua 77 days later, and becoming the first three-handed boat to complete the trip.

I'm honoured to be speaking at tonight's Smile with the Stars Ball, and feel truly inspired by the work that Simon, Vicky and Becky have done to raise awareness of Epilepsy and Sudep since tragically losing Lee. I sincerely hope we raise lots of money for the Lee Johnson Memorial Fund tonight, as well as having a wonderful evening celebrating Lee's life.

JANET JAYE

The soulful voice of Janet Jaye has brought much joy to many worldwide audiences, both large and small.

Janet's voice lends itself easily to most types of music (Jazz, Motown, Reggae, Soul etc) from the 50's to the present day. She started out in her local church singing gospel songs, some of this fine quality can still be heard in her voice. She went on to perform as a backing vocalist for Ruby Turner on The Motown Songbook Tour, performing on the same billing as such legendary greats as Chuck Berry (Blues Festival, Italy). The tour travelled extensively throughout most of Europe and the United Kingdom.

Janet was approached to sing the songs of "Whitney Houston" as a sound-alike look-alike in a show that would prove popular for more than 2 years, travelling as a solo artist within Europe, before eventually returning to the U.K.

Inspired.... within a week of her return she wrote and recorded a song that won "The Voice Newspapers" search for the best in British singing talent, a contest that attracted over 600 entries which was judged by "The Pasadenas" and "The Cookie Crew", amongst others. The decision was then made to front her own band as Janet Jaye, prior to this she had been performing by the name of Janet Lewis. Song writing and inputting her own individual feel in this Jazz Funk outfit, she performed at The Ronnie Scotts Club (Birmingham) on more than one occasion.

It's easy to see why Janet's voice evokes such emotion in the listener. Both the soft enriching tones that you hear when she sings songs like "My funny Valentine" or "Somewhere over the rainbow", for example do captivate. When combined with the powerful rich sound that can be heard in some of the up-tempo numbers, such as "Sign Sealed Delivered", "Car wash", "Ain't Nobody", and many of the great Motown hits, it's easy to see why the dance floor stays full and audiences marvel at her versatility.
